This new technology helps create more accurate and realistic interactions in-game. As per the engineers, “this approach removes the artificiality of players in the world, making you feel as if you are truly playing against a human,” said Alex Gonzalez, Senior Lead Engineer. “We are giving gamers the ability to feel more immersed in an authentic football environment.” FIFA 22 also features “Virtual Pro Line” introduced in FIFA 17. Players can customize their kit and shoes to align themselves with their favorite club. This year, the “Virtual Pro Line” features Pro League Pro 20's adidas Copa Mundial 2 boots and Barcelona FC17 Paco Alcacer's boots. FIFA 22 graphics have been enhanced to offer richer visuals than ever before. EA Sports has optimized the game engine to run on more powerful machines, allowing for more detailed visuals, including crisper textures and shadows, brighter colors and a more balanced color palette across all mediums. Players will be able to enjoy greater visual quality in FIFA 22. FIFA 22 features even more on and off-pitch gameplay and innovations. EA SPORTS FIFA UCL ANZ is bigger, more ambitious and better than ever. It introduces brand new ways to score and play your favourite team in Ultimate Team mode, along with dynamic game changes and new ways to manage the match. FIFA UCL ANZ brings an enhanced physics system in EA SPORTS FIFA UCL ANZ, allowing for a more authentic feeling of speed and motion. The game also features more realistic AI-controlled crowds that interact and react more like real fans, enabling the crowd to create an increased sense of noise, emotion and atmosphere. Furthermore, FIFA UCL ANZ allows fans to own and control stadiums to turn the matches they attend into exhilarating experiences. Players can manage and control a stadium to make sure that all fans are in the best possible seats, automatically restricting access to undesirables, along with many other small tactics and tweaks. FIFA UCL ANZ comes with a whopping 48 clubs and 27 leagues, including UEFA Champions League and Europa League. Players will be able to manage a Club or a League from the top to the bottom. It features all 55 of the clubs, the full list of the 27 Leagues, more than 100 leagues and player cards. FIFA UCL ANZ will be available for Xbox One and PS4 at launch.
