Contact information:[Familial hypertrophic cardiomyopathy in a 26-year-old patient]. Familial hypertrophic cardiomyopathy is a genetic disease of the heart with autosomal dominant inheritance. Clinical symptoms depend on the age of the patients, the size of the left ventricle and the amount of fibrosis in the myocardium. The disease can cause death at an early age in about 30% of the cases, and rarely serious disturbances of the heart rhythm and other serious complications can occur. We report the case of a 26-year-old patient, who had suffered since childhood from complaints of exertional dyspnea and chest pain. During examination, left ventricular hypertrophy and systolic anterior motion of the mitral valve leaflet were revealed, as well as mild disturbances of the heart rhythm. Because of his disease, the patient was referred to our clinic for diagnostic examinations. In the present case, a patient with severe left ventricular hypertrophy, which has a genetic etiology, was diagnosed with familial hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. Treatment consisted of an electrophysiological study and pharmacological therapy with beta-blockers.Ambassador Skafidas Ambassador Skafidas (Greek: Αμπελόγητος Σκαφίδας; 26 September 1925 – 25 September 2016) was a Greek-American cultural personality, politician and a member of the New York State Assembly, representing the 57th Assembly District of Staten Island.
