[Methotrexate for chronic arthritis associated with rheumatoid factor and anti-cyclic citrullinated peptide antibody]. Rheumatoid arthritis (RA) is a systemic autoimmune disease characterized by symmetrical synovitis and erosions of the peripheral joints. There is a strong association with an HLA-DRB1 shared epitope. A class I HLA-linked disease susceptibility gene was mapped to the human chromosome 6p21. There is a strong association between RA and rheumatoid factor (RF) and/or anti-cyclic citrullinated peptide (CCP) antibodies.

Methotrexate (MTX) is generally used to prevent and treat rheumatoid arthritis, and is generally used to treat RA. MTX is used to prevent joint destruction in RA patients, and to treat arthritis and other joint diseases. However, the management of RA is still challenging.(1) Field of the Invention The invention relates to a method of manufacturing a micro-miniature object or a micro-miniature volume using an x-ray lithography system. More specifically, the invention relates to a method of manufacturing a semiconductor device or a magnetic recording medium using an x-ray lithography system, a semiconductor device manufactured using the above method, and an apparatus for manufacturing a micro-miniature object or a micro-miniature volume using an x-ray lithography system.

(2) Description of the Related Art X-ray lithography systems are generally used for manufacturing semiconductor devices and magnetic recording media. For example, an x-ray lithography system is used in the manufacturing of semiconductor devices and magnetic recording media by an “ASM” (Advanced System Manufacturers) method using the FIB-IB (Focused Ion Beam and Ion Beam) method as one of the LIGA (Lithography, Galvanoformung, Abformung) techniques. In the conventional x-ray lithography system, a layer of photoresist as a recording medium is applied to a target object, and an x-ray which is a charged particle beam is irradiated to the photoresist in a vacuum which is different from the atmospheric pressure, thereby transferring a pattern from a mask or a reticle onto the photoresist. In the semiconductor device, the minimum
